Anger Management institute (AMI) Trainer-Specialist 2-day Certification Webinar Virtual Presentation November 3-4, 2023

The curriculum is research-based and synthesizes material from the What's Good About Anger? book and trainer's manual. Workshop participants qualify to obtain "Certified Anger Management Specialist-I or II" credential and become members of the National Anger Management Association (NAMA).

Includes Required Training to qualify for NAMA "Certified Anger Management Specialist-I or II", Training binder, book, Assessment & Leader's tools, CE/CEUs, hand-outs, resources

Most people believe that anger is a negative emotion from which no good can come. This Trainer-Specialist certification program based on the revised editions of "What's Good About Anger?" and the Trainer's manual provides a fresh perspective on anger and how anger—which is part of the human experience—can be put to work for good. Outcome studies on the Anger Management Institute groups demonstrate that the programs are 'evidence-based'. We will look at trauma, and how experiencing a crisis can trigger anger and its expression. Clinicians can assist their clients with understanding the effects of trauma on their psychological, physiological, and physical functioning and teach the skills that will mitigate the expression of inappropriate anger.

Who Should Attend?

Counselors, social workers, marriage and family therapists, addictions counselors, educators, law enforcement officers, coaches, health professionals, pastors and leaders are becoming certified to provide anger management services. Those completing this course may offer anger management education, classes, and groups - awarding certificates to court, school or employer ordered individuals.

What will you learn?

- Tools for teaching anger management
- DSM-V disorders associated with anger, contraindications
- Assessment process, physiology, and treatment planning
 - How to defuse anger and hostility
 - Role of emotional intelligence
- Empirically-based strategies for motivating clients
- Evidence-based cognitive and behavioral skills for managing anger
